

CALL FOR EVSer – Communications and marketing

AFS Norway is currently seeking an EVS-Volunteer for the duration of ten months, starting february/march 2020. The main task for the EVS volunteer will be helping to further develop the AFS brand in Norway, and strengthen our visibility as an educational organization for all of our stakeholders. The more concrete tasks will be developing strategies, building greater understanding of our stakeholders (especially Generation Z), and executing various initiatives in communications and marketing. The EVS-volunteer will work together with the Recruitment and Marketing Coordinator and one more volunteer. Accommodation, transport, language course and other practical arrangements will be taken care of.

The project

The project will last 10 months. The EVSer will have most of the working days at the office in Oslo, but will spend some time out of office for events. The EVSer will work together with the marketing team leader, but will also be able and expected to work independently.

Qualifications

- Creativity and independence
- You must have knowledge of marketing/communications, and be able to develop content in various Adobe programs.
- Knowledge of Social Media, including producing content, ads, insights
- If you have experience as a photographer and know how to edit videos it's a great bonus

We can offer

- A flexible and exciting work environment.
- Personal and professional growth.
- Experience of working professionally with marketing and communications.
- Norwegian language course.

How to apply

- Send your CV and a motivational letter to silje.roedal@afs.org before January 5th

Relevant candidates will be contacted for interviews.

AFS Norge Internasjonal Utveksling

www.afs.no | info@afs.no